JACOB M. CAMPBELL

Twenty three States have hald their State or District Republican Conventions and appointed deligants to the Chicago Convention, and all without a break in the line, have pronounced for General Grant as their candidate for the P est dency. He is morally certain to be nominated by actionation without a dissenting vote. In case that the property of the placed more this action who have been placed upon this action—one by the Remultic in friends ess and attribute it to the fear that we could of ele t a man distinctively representing our view of General Grant's services to the Republican party. In an ignorial skepiticism us to his administrative expective which is contradicted by his entire currer and, the flay, in a false monor of the true functions of a President.

I General Grant's services to the Republican party. Much is the people admine the abilities or the principles of other Republican leaders the whole a utom and the extilized world knows that Providence, pieced it in the power of General Grant to serve the Republican party to the atterness exercited such that the principles of the Republican party to the atterness excellent of saving its life to reputation and its uschilless. When the principles of the Republican party would have been down in filters when the Unit in would have been destroyed and situation struggle of a runs which avorted that story in minited and perpetrated but for the tremendous struggle of arms which averted the tremendous struggle of arms which averted the tremendous struggle of arms which averted the tremendous struggle of the rebellion and save the Union Hud it fuied in that it would have sunk into an abjast of an afaltomable contempt. All previous or antered dent services in organizing the party, or in vindicating or expounding its principle, paled and grow dim before the sublime necessity that God should raise up some. MAN upon whom the mightly burden of the unition's military struggle might be rolled in perfect trust that he would bear us on to victory. Principles were valueless unless increment in men to the mershalled under a leader endowed with that secred blending of energy with mildness of boldness with caution, of indomabile will with a wise willing uses to hear the counsels of others and profit by of energy with mildness of boldness with castion, of indomitable will with a wise willing uses to hear the counsels of others and profit by the left of hear the counsels of others and profit by the field, with humanity in avoiding bloodshed by every means consistent with success, which constitute something better than heroism, which are summoned up and exemplified in General Grant A hero may be rash, tyranked, unprincipled, per didous or visidetive. General trant can be more of these. Heroism is but a minor quality in his character. Administrative ladgment, the facility for disposing simply castly and wheely of preclassifiers marks his whole, carteer, and especially the difficult, patuful, yet wholly successful part he has played as a civilian during Johnson's administration. With those qualities Grant cance the nation like the last file boat to a ship in distress. Others may have served or arraed on termer or minor occusions, but the chain of the list saylor has the prior lien over the others—Officers come to the same work with more promises, greater prestige, and with more abund until metrial resources. But after their humiliting failures Grant saved the nation, and in saving the nation he more than saved then Republican party. He lifted it into a position of antiority and power which, ordinary prud nee, wisdom and ourrage, ought to secure it the government of the caurry for whenty free years.

From the London Star

A poor man on crutches went to Mr Gore at the Mansion House, on Wednesday atternoon, and asked for relief. He said he had fallen from a scaffold and broke three of his ribs and had been discharged only that morning from the in irrmary of the East London Union. Mr Gore was very kind to him, gave him an order for rendmission to the Union, suspence for his omninus tare, and a stilling to get a dunner with—Inc poor man imped out of the room, and had no scooner left it than he complained of a pain in his inside, an officer got him a little brandy, and he left the Mansion House, a minute after he was found writing or the ground in trone of the European Tavern—it was now evidently a case of life or death—he was at once put into a cab and driven to St Bartholomew's Hospital in charge of an officer—On the way he gave three convulsive gapes and stretched himself out as if for the last time—the policeman's reflections were very painful, he was in the presence of death shut up within the nerrow confines of a public vehicle with one of the brare warriors of the army of labor who had fallen at his post. He thought of the tume when the poor fellow life. Ludde him was a fair harred boy starting in the race of life—he thought of his own boylood and the dreams—and he cald to himself, it is better to

A WALK-FIFTEEN MILES IN FOUR HOUR FOR $400.-On Thursday evening last, a promi nent oil operator of Oil City and a producer at Petroleum Centre, got into a discussion in a hotel at the latter piace on walking in general, and the Oli City man's walking abilities in particular The Oil Cityman was of the notation that he could walk to that place, and, for that matter, back to Petroleum Centre in a certain time. The Petro leum Centre man was sure to the extent of $200 that the Oil City walkist could not make the trip from the hotel at Petroleum Centre to the bridge at Oil City, and return, in any less time than fou hours, while that individual was sure to an equal amount that he could make the trip inside of the time. The money was put up, and thereupon the walkist started on railroad track, made the bridge at Oli City in less than two hears, and started on the return trip. Shortly after the walkint started it became generally known at Perroleum Centre that the walk was in progress. A few member: of a brass band with their instruments were then got together, and with a pamerone delegation of citizens, proceeded down the track, met the ve turning welkiet near the Story Farm and accompanied him to the hotel. The distance walker was fifteen miles, and the walklet arrived a Petroleum Centre twenty-nine minutes abend & time. The stake-holder paid over the money yesterday morning, Connections. An election for Governor and other State offieers takes place in Coun. on Monday next. The rote last year wes 47,565 Democratic and 46,578 Republican. This result might probably be accounted for by the colonisation of Democratic oters from New York; but saide from this there were in operation at the time several exuses of ar exceptional, and one might say accidental character. Among them may be mentioned the compara the popularity and good war record of Governor English, which commended him to many men who would not have voted for a straight-out copperhead. Then strangely enough the eight hour movement was palmed off upon the workingmen as a Democratic messure, as if they had for the ime forgotten the antagonism of the Democracy mbedying as it does the only distinctively aris tocratic society in the country—the siaveocracy there were the opponents of Temperance legisla tion, who were also leagued against the Repub than that of the workingmen, but losing us the votes of many who, on the political questions o the day, would have been heartily with us. The contest being so close each party are now patting forth the most vigorous efforts. On the Republican side the following speakers have been in the field: Governor A. G. Curtin, of Pennsylvania; Governor Blair, of Michigan; or Herriman, Hon, J. H. Els and Hon, W L. Foster, of New Hampshire, General D. E. Bickles, General John Cochrane, Hon, Dennis McCarthy, Major Haggerty, of New York , Hou Ignatius Donnelly, of Minnesota; Hou George U. Gorham, of California ; Hon. Hannibat Hem lin, of Maine, Governor Hawley, General Pear on, Colonel Bissell and Prof. Northrop, of Connectiont, General Hite, of Missourt; Hon, Wm burn, and General Coburn, of Indiana; Hon A. Foote und General J. A. Garfield, o Ohio, Hop. Wm. D. Kelley, of Pennsylvania, there can be little doubt of the result. The dedelon is now as casily made up as it will be on he evening of the 6th of April The "verdict the evening or the old of April 2006.

The Legislature will not adjourn before the litth of April, as some of the most important work of the session is yet to be accomplished.

THE conviction of President Johnson is asumed by many people as so certain to be the result of his pending impeachment, that they are already discussing the punishment which the Senate will probably inflict upon him. The Constitution says (article 1, section 3), "Judgment removal from office, and disqualitiention to hold and enjoy any office of honor, trust or profit un der the United States." Now, the question come up, Must the Senate not only remove Mr John son upon conviction, and also disqualify him or, may it merely remove him, without inflicting the disqualification to hold office? As the object of impeachment is mainly to remove entioned is entirely in the discretion of the Senate This view is confirmed by the fourth section of the second article, which says merely, The President, Vice President, and civit office of the United States shall be removed from office on impeachment for and conviction of treason bribery, and other high crimes and missiemean ors." Here the only punishment made obliga tory, as it is the only one necessary, is removal er office, and nothing is said of disqualineation. Nor is it anywhere provided that removal from office shall of itself work disqualification for oc cupying that office. So that should President Johnson be convicted, and the Democratic party

Pittshurgh people never have fresh air except when out of town. They live on the coal smoke and floating cinders. We inhaled seven tone of coal the litts hour we were there. The people and bothing chiddre. We inhaled seven tons of coal the first hour we were there. The people breathe smoke, cat smoke, chew smoke and earry it looke in the ir pockets. It is now seventy-two years since Pittsburgh has been warmed or reached by the sun's rays. Once a streak of sunshine for several years condensing, undertook to penetrate the cloud of smoke over the city, got loat, he came smoked, and fell tike a standing edition of the Buck Crock!

The ladics use smoke and coal dust to protect their complexion. Little boys and girls stand on the corners with wet brooms and sponges to wash the people's faces for five cents. Everybody is of a culor in Pittsburgh. At the post office win-dow that clerk distinguishes people by certain signs, it being impossibile to see their faces for the layers of smoke and dunt. We saw a little borrections on the steet beautiers. we have so is make and dust. We saw a little by crying on the street because he had lost his ther, who was standing six feet shead of him is the blackness. Every one wears mourning in Pittsburgh, A barber once went there to color hair and whitskers. He more'n bussed in a week. Mer kies cach other's wives in Pitchburgh, mable to tell which is their own only by the taste.— Women send children one transle, first writing on their fieces with a thumb pail or wet stick on their faces with a thumb nail or wet attek. People incel their way by door knobs, and read by raised type. A man once atood in his room with the window raised—changed bits shifts the times in four minutes, and only got a clean one on him when the window fell try accident and kept the smoke out. Meet a man with a cold who has been blowing his nose, and that organ tooks like a hurne stump on each side of which a woodchuck had been burrowing. A white man therespice secured his wife of presenting him with a nigger baby—she proved ber innocence of capying that office. So that should President Johnson be convicted, and the Democratic party want to run him as their capidate next fall, with a higger laby—she proved berinconcence of an opini a "whose him here "by plunging the little innocent into a citera with a lantera tied to his arek. The husband saw dilay, recognized the Santon existle, chapted his wife to his bosom and beld her there so long in alogifal embrace our authorized agents to receive unberiptions to the Monarised Hustath for short as well as long that the little case in the clatera was drowned—the lamp went out and the boy was lost forever.

Richmond's Letter from Weshington-» Masse "Commits Mari-Karl (in afforn) View of the High Court of Impeachment— Now and Theu.

Editors Morning Maraki Great excitement existed in the city last night when it was rumored that Mister Johnson had committed Hari Kari at the White House. But the whole story is fulse, and originated among unscrupulous reporters, with a view to depress the gold market. But such an act if true, would 'cast from men' now on exhibition at the Patent Office, were an unusual cheerful aspect when the story was circulated. The particulars of the event (which if it had taken place, would have cast such a gioom over dozons of American hearts) or rather the circumstances which gave rise to the report, are as follows A zeulous reporter having occasion to walk through the grounds belonging to the Presiden that mansion, came upon the spot where some of the attachees of the White House, had been butchering hogs, and observing some old clothes, a broken jug and several parils of intestines scattered over the ground, his over wrought im agination quickly pictured the suicide of the President by Hart Kari. Menes the erroneous reports that galned credence yesterday. Last week I tendered my services to Mr assistance, whether of a personal or pecuniary character. The drowning men at straws, but our sinklog Chief Ruler grabs at straw, hay, sticks and everything else that affords the slightest chance of keeping him affeat. Monday last was an eventful day in the history of our country, it was the second day of impeachment The day was beautiful, light, fleecy clouds gave on alternate of sun and shade. Peach tree dooming fragrance scented the air, and washerwomen proceeded to hang out their linen as usual. No unusual bustle was perceptible to strangers, but upon every fashionable buway leading to the Impeachment Chamber could numpkin-colored gloves, held the pastchoard ackets that were to admit them to the galleries of the Senate, while from their pockets protruded delicate luncheons of " Newfoundland anine and 'cold codush balls and cheese." Owing to the ticket system, the brunettish tinge so con o the galleries upon other occasions, was here lone away with, in other words "our colored spect to "Moses," who, having failed to lend them out of the wilderness, according to his romise, did not want them to see how he was to be abandoned in the "bullrushes" by the iclegates from the freedmen's bureau, there was an unusual prevalence of the aristocracy You could not look in any direction without seeing some prominent public simpleton, or mer ink slingers' stall," was crowded to the utmost with representatives of the goose quill. Then there were the wives or "ladies" of the Senators ad their families, Belle Boyd, (not of Boys athoress, and several representatives of the Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Train school, who fond ly hope that another four years will see the desks and scale of the Sentiors filled with young hemselves, and man, it he be allowed admission to the halfs of the mation at all, must come as While musing thus, I dropped asleep and in my dreams saw the Senate Chamber !

A Court of Impeachment was in session for the purpose of trying the Presidentess, Mrs E Cady Stanton, for crimes and miss demeaners committed when she was a " Miss, or befor dressed gentlemen and their children, and th lutter of faus, the waving of ribbons, the fain perfume from delicate laces, with the pleasant faces of childhood in that quarter, afforded and might, sat the law makers of the nation the Senatoresses, each face wearing a stern look f determination and power.

The Chief Justicess, Mrs. Swizlem, of Minne ola, one of the noblest and manifest women of the times, brought down her mailet with a which and called the court to order. At the head o he table sat Mrs. O'Cahay, the principal manager of the court of impeachment, with her handun through her heavy locks, looking co.d . . . ntellectual. Next to her sat Anna-Dickens son, with one foot carelessly [crossed over the knee, while her hands toyed with the heavy moustache (skillfelly made from buffalo skin that adorned her upper lip. To the left sat Mrs James Buchanan, her features still possessin races of the beauty that renderedilier the belle of the White House in 1861, and in her speech and actions showing much of the fire and energy that characterized her during the fore part of the rebellion. Hall Gamilton, with her fine distinsuished face, sat opposite, with one arm hanging over her chair, the other lying on the table-he catures, in their firm obstinacy, resembling those of "Bull Run Russell" at the memous retreat of that name. All these ludies are digulated and of poble mich, and as there comes a faint whispering delphis prices from the gentlemen in the gellery, the "Sergeant at-Arms" calls them to order in a voice of thun der, while the blushing men hide themselves be hind their fans. At this juncture I awoke, and found that Mr. Butler and delivered the opening speech, and the assumblage was beginning to leave. I took up my hat and departed remains on the uncertainty of political life and "things"

A New Process - "Stigmetypy" is a new plan, just tried in Boston, for printing pictures from movable types. The new volume of the "Annual of Scientific Discovery has an illustrated page giving a view of the old Adams homestead Quincy, Mass. This is claimed as a Boston in-Vantion, but a German almost simultaneously published a similar discovery. The object simed at by both is to produce pictorial effects by mean of movable types, bearing upon their faces differ ent devices which in combination produce carious results. The "Aupual" says that the Boston in ventor conceived the idea of producing by the use of type ambetantially the effects ordinarily ob tained by line engravings , and, after considers hie study, determined upon the use of fourteer different faces or characters.

The first effort of the Geman application of this plan is due to one Panel, a printer of Vienna, who, during the past year, has produced, with movable types, pictures of great beauty. ut, as practised by him, is eniled "stigmatype," from the fact that that he uses only the full point of different sizes, east upon the same body. The effect is produced by the difference in shade so cording to the proximity of the fall points.
